It is the policy of Cecil College to not discriminate against any individual by reason of race, color, sex, marital status, citizenship, national or ethnic origin, age, religion, sexual orientation, or disability. Please refer to the College catalog for the complete and detailed Nondiscrimination Statement.

The College requires individuals who have been convicted of a felony and/or who have registered as a sex offender, and who are seeking enrollment at the College, to disclose the conviction and/or sex offender registration status to the Office of Public Safety. Notification must be made at least 5 days prior to the class or activity start date. Notification should be emailed to safety@cecil.edu and include name, address, date of birth, phone number, email address, and the name of the program or activity being pursued. Status does not automatically disqualify a student from taking classes and will be considered by the College along with the age of the student at the time of any aspect of the criminal history occurred, time elapsed since criminal history occurred, nature of the criminal history, evidence of rehabilitation or good conduct, and the safety and security of members of the campus community and campus assets.

CECIL COLLEGE • SUMMER/FALL 2024

2024-2025 FAFSA

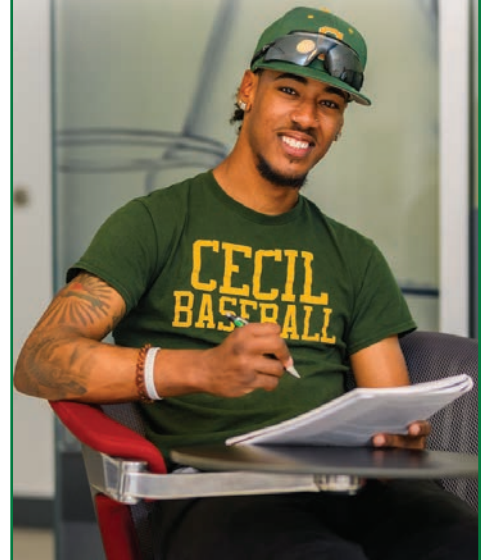

The 2024-2025 FAFSA determines financial aid eligibility for the fall 2024, spring 2025, and summer 2025 terms. Significant changes are highlighted below:

- Income information is now pulled directly from the IRS for all applicants
 - Users must provide consent
 - Non-filers will have this information provided by the IRS
- Consent is specific to each tax filer
 - There will be cases where both the student and their spouse or both of a student’s parents may need to apply for an FSA ID (for example, if the tax filing status is married but filing separately)
- All FAFSA filers should apply for an FSA ID 3-5 business days prior to beginning the FAFSA
- Tax exemptions pulled from the IRS will be used to define “Family Size” and number in college is no longer reported
- The Expected Family Contribution (EFC) is being replaced with the Student Aid Index (SAI) and maximum Pell consideration is given to applicants with an SAI of -1500

The Cecil College Financial Aid Office provides assistance in completing the FAFSA.

Contact us today at 410-287-1003, fniaid@cecil.edu, or use our live chat feature located on the Financial Aid page of www.cecil.edu.

ACCOUNTING

ACCOUNTING

If you have a way with numbers and are a natural problem solver, the study of accounting may be right for you. Accounting can provide career options with strong earning potential, job stability and an expanding range of career choices. All organizations involved in financial transactions, from complex, global enterprises to locally-owned small businesses and mission driven non-profits, require skilled accountants to keep finances on track. As an accounting major, you will learn the skills to analyze, record, and report on business transactions, utilize current technology and employ basic managerial accounting concepts necessary in today's commercial enterprises.

DEGREE PROGRAM

Accounting (Associate of Applied Science)

This program is designed to prepare students for initial employment and career advancement in the field of accounting in small, medium, and large-sized businesses. Candidates will be trained to process and record routine data and transactions, as well as prepare accounting statements and analyze various types of accounting data.

Career Opportunities

Tax planning and compliance, auditing, cost accounting, banking and lending, and financial consulting.

CERTIFICATE PROGRAM

Accounting

The goal of this certificate is to provide a defined course of study for those working in the field who do not have the necessary college-level course work for their positions.

ENROLL TODAY!

AUDIO TECHNOLOGY

CERTIFICATE PROGRAM

The Audio Technology Program provides students with practical career skills and applied technique as a foundation for advancement in music. Training in both recording techniques and live mixing is provided in classes in addition to the opportunity to participate in performances.

This program helps students prepare for internships, employment, or careers in audio and production. The certificate program courses may be used in satisfying degree requirements.

Courses Include:

- Introduction to Audio Technology
- Music Fundamentals
- Recording Techniques
- Introduction to Digital Audio Workstations

For more information, contact Admissions at admissions@cecil.edu, 410-287-1006, or live chat with us at www.cecil.edu during office hours.

Music with Areas of Concentration (Associate of Applied Science)

The Music Program provides students with performing experience, practical career skills, and applied technique as a foundation for advancement in music. Solid training in classical and/or contemporary techniques is given in individual lessons with participation in music ensemble performances every semester. This program helps students prepare for transfer to a four-year institution, internships, and employment or career advancement in the areas of performance, education, administration, and production.

This degree program has concentrations in the following:

- Audio Technology
- Music
- Music Education
- Voice

BIOLOGICAL SCIENCES

BIOLOGICAL SCIENCES WITH AREAS OF CONCENTRATION

If you have an interest in plants, animals, microbes, the medical field, or an interest in how humans can impact the environment, a degree in the biological sciences may be perfect for you. This program offers a selection of biology and other natural and physical science-related courses for students wishing to pursue a program of study in biology.

The Associate of Science Biological Sciences provides a course of study for students with concentrations in the following:

- Biology
- Biomedical Science
- Environmental Science

The curriculum is designed to meet the needs of students who plan to transfer to a college or a university that grants a Baccalaureate Degree in various areas of Biological Science, Environmental Science, or Health Sciences.

Cecil College has strong partnerships related to the biological sciences with Maryland colleges and universities as well as other schools in nearby states. Our graduates transfer to universities including: University of Maryland Baltimore County, University of Maryland College Park, Towson University, and University of Delaware.

An associate degree in biology gives students a firm foundation and is the first step towards a career in fields such as: biology, medicine, dentistry, allied health careers, communication outreach with government agencies, education, field consultation, laboratory research, pharmacy, research and development.

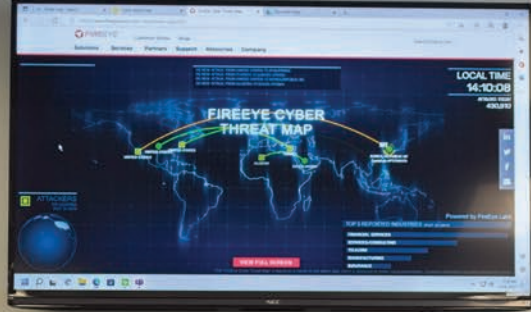

Biological Laboratory Skills (Certificate)

This certificate will provide students with the skills needed for an entry-level position in industrial or research labs in such fields as biotechnology, bioproduction, or biopharmaceuticals. It also provides an introductory pathway to a two-year degree or further in Biological studies.

The 18-credit Lab Skills certificate can be completed in two semesters. Students learn the skills of pipetting, molecular cloning, laboratory record keeping, precision measuring, growing cell and microbe cultures, and the ability to sterilize equipment while practicing required sterile techniques.
